

Our suite of NZQA accredited postgraduate teacher programmes

Digital & Collaborative Teaching & Learning Micro-credential (DCTL)

15 weeks,
part-time

Online learning through videos, quizzes and optional Zoom sessions

Level 8, 15 credits

- Flexible individual learning
- Focus on innovative pedagogies, digital tools and collaborative learning
- Enables you to integrate contemporary and emergent digital tools into your teaching

Postgraduate Certificate in Digital & Collaborative Learning (DCL)

35 weeks,
part-time

Weekly facilitated online sessions, additional learning in your context, face-to-face or online block days

Level 8, 60 credits

- Fun, practical and collaborative community-based learning
- Focus on innovation, research, digital technologies and a student-centred approach to learning
- Enables you to drive impact and lead change in your classroom

Master of Contemporary Education (MCE)

1 year full-time or 2 years part-time, once DCL is completed

Facilitated online sessions, additional learning in your context, face-to-face or online symposiums

Level 9, 180 credits

- Practice-based, learner-focused and solutions-driven learning
- Agile, iterative and collaborative – supported by practical workshops and online communities
- Enables you to create a change project that adds measurable, beneficial value to you, your school and your education communities