Master of Contemporary Education

NZQA Accredited Masters, Level 9, 180 credits | 1.5 years full-time or 3 years part-time

Programme Overview

The Master of Contemporary Education [MCE] programme has been designed with the alumni of the PGC-DCL programme in mind and to build on the core philosophy of digital and collaborative learning. The practice-based MCE programme is about the challenges, problems and opportunities that educators face in their education context.

MCE is applied, which means learning is demonstrated through a real-world project that delivers actual outcomes – not a written thesis. Being project-based means applicants minimise their time out of work, and the focus of their project is entirely up to the individual. On completing the implementation of your project in Part 3 you will present your findings to your peers and the Academic Team in a Symposium.

After 1.5 years of full-time study or 3 years of part-time study (including PGC-DCL programme), students will have an NZQA-accredited, level 9 Master's degree.

Graduate Profile

Graduates of the Master of Contemporary Education will be able to lead education innovation and opportunities created through digital technologies and future-focused practices to advance education across New Zealand. They will be able to work collaboratively with students, parents, whānau, communities and other key stakeholders in a range of contexts to develop and adapt strategies to advance teaching practice and improve learner outcomes.

Graduates of the Master of Contemporary Education will be able to:

- Critically engage in a substantial and authentic way with appropriate communities and stakeholders in the context of educational change.
- Critique past, existing, and emerging practices and determine their cultural and social impact in the wider education context.
- Critically analyse existing and emerging challenges and opportunities in contemporary education, and generate strategies to advance practice.
- Develop and adapt specialised knowledge regarding emerging and disruptive technologies, and the need for digital fluency, into practice.
- Lead and develop collaborative learner-focused 'solutions in practice' in the context of emerging challenges and opportunities in contemporary education

Entry Requirements

The high level entry criteria, as approved by NZQA, for entry into the programme are as follows:

- A recognised bachelor's degree in the same or similar discipline, with merit achievements, deemed to be an average grade of B- or higher in all Level 7 courses.

OR

- A professional qualification in a relevant discipline, recognised as being equivalent to merit achievement in a bachelor degree.
- A New Zealand Teacher Registration number or proof of qualification or employment statement of purpose.
- Proof of residency as a New Zealand or non-New Zealand citizen.
- Must give consent to undergo a process of safety checking as set out in the Vulnerable Children's Regulations 2015.

For admission into the MCE all applicants will be interviewed by one of the Academic team members to ensure that the MCE programme is the right fit.

The following admission criteria will be applied:

- Willingness to commit to the Programme;
- Evidence of competency in achievement, leadership, humility, respect and empathy, self-reflection and commitment to the vision of the Programme.

The Mind Lab will:

- Officially offer the applicant a place on the MCE Programme,

OR

- Decline the applicant's application, providing the reasons why and an opportunity to discuss this if they wish.

Following an applicant's official acceptance of the offer of a place on the MCE Programme, and providing the required documentation is in order, the applicant will be enrolled as a student on the MCE Programme.

If you have completed a Postgraduate qualification at another institution please refer to the section about Credit Recognition and Transfers.

Programme Structure

This 180-credit MCE Programme is structured into three parts, each comprising 60 credits.

Part 1: Digital and Collaborative Learning (60 credits, Level 8)

The first part of the Programme is delivered as the Postgraduate Certificate in Digital and Collaborative Learning.

Part 2: Contemporary Education (60 credits, Level 8)

Students continue to work collaboratively to support and lead each other on their learning journey. This continues through Parts 2 and 3. The second part is also made up of four 15-credit courses; these build on the learning and competencies acquired in Part 1. Students work together to further develop digital, collaborative and leadership competencies, which inform their learning, thinking, and application of knowledge to practice. The four courses focus on challenges in contemporary teaching, digital fluency, and leadership and collaboration in practice.

Part 3: Practice-based Change Project (60 credits, Level 9)

The Practice-based Change Project is a capstone course which builds on the outcomes of the other four courses in Part 2. In this final 60-credit course students demonstrate their capability in leadership and collaboration towards positive change through the implementation of a Practice-based Change Project. Students use contemporary pedagogical knowledge to address education challenges in their own context. Students lead a project and work collaboratively with one or more other students to support, mentor and coach them in their projects. There is a requirement that students attend face-to-face sessions and online workshops. Students must also present their Project to their peers and other stakeholders at the end of Part 3 at the MCE Symposium.

Assessments

Assessment Strategy

Assessments have been designed to support the learning process and should be thought of as learning tools, where students present and receive feedback on their work in order to improve it. More detailed information on assessments can be found in the Student Guide and on The Mind Lab Portal which students will be able to access by the start date of the programme.

Part One - Postgraduate Certificate of Digital and Collaborative Learning

Students enrolled in the PGC-DCL Programme are assessed through achievement-based summative assessments where grades are awarded against and contribute to credits for the course they are assessing. The PGC-DCL Programme allows students to submit collaboratively, so for most assessment tasks, students can work in groups of two or three if they wish to do so. Please note that not all assessments can be done collaboratively since some require personal reflective practice. Each assessment description makes it clear whether or not that assessment can be submitted by a group.

Part Two and Part Three - Master of Contemporary Education

Students enrolled in the MCE Programme are assessed through competency-based summative assessments, supported by formative assessments. Formative assessments are designed to provide students with feedback from their peers and their advisor - with no credits attached. In the MCE Programme, credits are awarded against the successful completion of summative assessments. There is no formal thesis in the Masters Programme. Implementation of the Practice-based Change Project, together with associated assessments, take the place of a formal thesis. Assessment formats include a written report, and presentation, but may also include other outputs negotiated with advisors - depending on the nature of a student's project.

All assessments in the MCE programme are measured against a competency-based format. Final outcomes against all assessments, and therefore courses, that students can receive are a Not Yet Competent or a Competent grade. To get a Competent grade for a course overall, students must satisfy all assessment criteria related to the Learning Outcomes of the courses. Importantly, students will receive feedback targeted to these Learning Outcomes through both the formative and summative assessment process. Often a student will also receive an interim outcome of 'Requirements' or 'Requirements Needed' for an assessment, which means that there are further requirements to fulfill in order to pass the assessment. These requirements must be met in the stated time frame before continuing.

Te Reo Māori and New Zealand Sign Language

All students are offered the opportunity to submit any assessment in the official languages of New Zealand: New Zealand English, te reo Māori, and New Zealand Sign Language. All students are asked to indicate to the Programme Coordinator, when starting the Programme (via the programme email or Slack), if they intend to submit assessments in te reo Māori or New Zealand Sign Language. This is to enable The Mind Lab to meet our turnaround commitments.

Special Assessment Circumstances

If an unforeseen circumstance impairs your ability to submit an assessment on time you are able to apply for a Special Assessment Circumstance (SAC). Students have five working days from the assessment due date to apply and must provide relevant supporting evidence (e.g a letter from a principal, doctor's certificate etc).

Academic Integrity

The Mind Lab is committed to maintaining and promoting the highest standards of academic integrity. All students are held to the same high standards. To help ensure that academic integrity is maintained, The Mind Lab uses Turnitin as a plagiarism detector tool. Turnitin is also used by markers to provide feedback to students on written submissions. All written assessments must be submitted to Turnitin to generate a Similarity Report.

What is Academic Integrity?

As stated in The Mind Lab Code of Conduct, Academic Integrity refers to intellectual honesty with regard to the use of information.

This includes but is not limited to;

1. Proper acknowledgment of other people's (academics, professionals, peers, relatives, ancestors) work. Acknowledgement of those who have gone before. This is also important for those who come after (readers, peers, assessors) to be able to follow and even build on your work.

- a. Use a consistent and clear process
 - b. Other people's work is not limited to their writing (which should be presented as a quote and only if the writing is reproduced faithfully), but also their ideas, findings and conclusions.
 - c. Do you need permission to reproduce this work?
2. Ensuring that your submissions, presentations and assessments are your work.
- a. You may have employed or commissioned an editor or proof reader. If you have, make this clear and acknowledge them with their permission.
 - b. Others may have contributed to your submission and these contributors also need acknowledgment e.g. a programme coder, a colleague or collaborator.
 - c. If you are in doubt, get advice from Programme staff.

Platforms

The Mind Lab uses a variety of platforms to engage and support a blended learning model. Here you will find a brief overview of the most frequently used platforms. More detailed information and instructions will be provided in your Student Guide.

Resources Required for Study

Students will need access to a laptop, a mobile/handheld device and a reliable connection to the internet so that they are able to access online materials and communication tools. Your device will need a camera and a microphone in order to participate in online sessions. Administration rights to a device may be required for the installation of apps.

The Mind Lab Portal

The Mind Lab Portal is The Mind Lab's Learning Management System (LMS). It is the hub of your learning and hosts key resources, web links, and The Mind Lab eLibrary. This is also where all assessments are uploaded and all assessment feedback and final course grades are provided.
